

Pippa is busy knitting a scarf for her friend Hedgehog. "I hope Hedgehog likes red," she says to Kitty. "I've never asked him what his favorite color is." She finishes the last stitches of the scarf and sits back to admire her work. "Hurray! It's all done," she says. "I can't wait to give it to him!"

Pippa puts the scarf in a pretty blue box. “It’s getting colder and colder outside,” she explains to Kitty. “Now Hedgehog will be warm and cozy all winter long.” She finishes off her present with a red bow and puts on her rain boots and raincoat. “I can’t wait to give him his gift!” she says cheerfully.
